SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital-urinary organs. Office Hours—10 to 4 and 6 to 8—Sundays from 10 to 11 A. M. Consultation Free. Thorough examination and advice $3.

P. S. For private diseases of short standing a full course of medicines sufficient for a cure, with necessary instructions, will be sent to any address upon receipt of Ten Dollars. Call or address DR. SPINNEY & CO., No. 11 Kearney Street, San Francisco, Cal.

BEYOND THE RIVER

Away Across the Mississippi is Held

A Convincing Conversation.

"I tell you, sir, that they are one of the nearest combinations ever produced, and my experience of that sort of thing has been wide enough to entitle my judgment to some respect."

"Oh, I don't know," responded the first speaker's friend, with a little yawn, as though he didn't take much interest in the subject. "I have never been able to see much difference in those things. They are all pretty nearly the same size and made of about the same stuff."

The talk of which the foregoing is a fragment, took place in Gallatin, Missouri, not long ago, in the snug office of Dr. M. P. Flowers, one of the leading physicians of the State, who followed up the vein in which he had introduced it substantially in these words:

"None of those things is the ringer of a boy, or rather of a man who either doesn't know or doesn't care what he says. Those things, as you say, are all pretty nearly the same size and made of about the same stuff."

"Now, gentlemen, let me tell you a story. I have been in the office of Dr. M. P. Flowers, one of the leading physicians of the State, who followed up the vein in which he had introduced it substantially in these words:

A BAD GOVERNMENT.

The present trouble between the San Francisco municipal government and the Spring Valley Water Company is but the outgrowth of the short-sighted policy followed by the business men of that busy city in neglecting to pay proper attention to the selection of honest, capable men to administer city affairs. The city has been at the mercy of ward politicians for years, and men of Dennis Kearney's stripe have carried things with a high hand, unmolested by honest men, until the city government has become as rotten as a decayed salmon, and hundreds of thousands of dollars have been recklessly squandered and stolen. Property-holders will have to step in and take the governmental reins into their own hands if they want good government. The war now progressing between the city and water company shows what a pitiable condition the city is in; and the better classes just begin to realize how negligent they have been in public matters. A Board of Supervisors, put in charge of an important trust by ballots cast by the low, thieving, disreputable element, given full control of elections by a thoughtless people, have at one stroke reduced water rates 37 per cent. The water companies very naturally object to having their property destroyed, and dispute the City Council's right to confiscate its earnings (for it amounts to that), without giving it a chance to prove the injustice of such a move. The taking something for nothing is a poor way of addressing wrongs, and invariably leads to trouble. When the sober-minded, thinking business men take matters into their own hands and purify the atmosphere in and about the City Hall, San Francisco will have a good government, but not until then.

MARKER'S BILL.

Senator Marker's bill to reclaim desert lands was passed to engrossment yesterday. Since the Senators have investigated this important measure and are showing a disposition to treat the subject intelligently and fairly, it has gained many friends. The subject of irrigation is of paramount interest to this State, and sooner or later some system of irrigation, assisted by the State Government, will have to be devised if we expect to ever become a prosperous sovereignty. While our mining industries are lying dormant and the avenue to good times blocked in many directions is the time for our people to act themselves "whether are we drifting?" Senate bill No. 78 will do more to promote and foster our agricultural interest than any measure ever introduced in our Legislative bodies. Farming seems to be all our people have to fall back on, but the want of water in the right places to be useful has kept out gates closed against immigration seeking homes. Muscle and money are carried through the State on every train that would settle and make our desert lands productive if properly encouraged. The step Mr. Marker has taken is in the right direction, and we believe the policy marked out by the bill will in the near future place us in the rank of producers. If the bill becomes a law our treasury will be filled our people happy and contented and the State's taxable property trebled in three years. The more attention the subject receives the more popular it will become.

SOUND SENSE.

There is, in too many instances, a criminal lack of care and control over the young. Boys who are hardly out of their swaddling clothes run about Reno at night, talking of flash pastimes like old sports, when they ought to be snugly tucked away in bed. The Oakland Tribune, on this subject, makes the subjoined remarks:

State; and if parents will not keep their children home at night, the authorities should force them to do so. An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure. It is far easier to prevent a boy or girl from going to the bad than to reform them after they have sinned. This is a matter which comes home, not only to parents, but to every member of society who is interested in good order, morality and decency. In nine cases out of ten the parents of a child are wholly responsible for the evil habits contracted, and they cannot escape the responsibility. In the first place, parents should have a home for their children, and secondly, they should make that home pleasant and attractive, so that their children will find more true pleasure around the family hearthstone than on the streets. Few parents appreciate their great responsibility in this matter.

It has been discovered that the more lawyers there are in the Legislature the more defective and incomprehensible are the laws.

A Man Beheaded—The Murderer Hung With a Log-Chain Seven Men Killed in Attempting to Recover the Body.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.
Near East Tarras, Michigan, at a logging camp, two men got in a dispute over a trial as to whose team could haul the heaviest load. After a trial, the one whose team was victorious, went into a cabin and sat down, when the defeated one came behind him and with one blow of an ax severed his head from his body. The head rolled to the floor and the eyes winked several times and the mouth opened. An alarm was raised and members of the camp took the murderer, placed a log-chain around his neck and hung him. They then placed a guard around the body to await the arrival of the Sheriff. Men came from neighboring camps to take the corpse down, and a general fight ensued, in which seven men were killed. No names are obtainable.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 22.
The day was cold and disagreeable for the contest between Captain Bogardus and Dr. W. F. Carver of California. The match was shot on the grounds of the Jockey Club. Seven or eight hundred persons were present and considerable money was put up. Bets on the average at the opening were about one hundred on Bogardus to sixty on Carver. Last night the latter's friends grew more confident and he crept up in the pools. Before the opening of the match pools sold at one hundred on Bogardus to eighty on Carver. Then even bets were offered and accepted. The match was one hundred birds at thirty yards rise. Both men appeared calm and confident when called by Colonel John M. Barbour of this city, acting as referee without judges. The birds used were tame pigeons that did not fly well. Bogardus failed to score on the second bird, which fell dead 40 yards outside the limits. Carver missed the fifteenth and sixteenth. Bogardus missed the nineteenth, when the score was a tie. Carver fell behind on the twentieth with a miss. When the fiftieth bird was reached there was a tie again, each having killed 43. At the seventieth Bogardus had 60, Carver 57. From the seventy-fifth to the ninetieth Carver made three and tied Bogardus, neither had missed for some time and the excitement was high among the crowd; but the contestants were cool and determined. Bogardus missed the ninety-sixth, and Carver, without a miss, ran out, defeating his antagonist by one bird—Carver 83, Bogardus 82; time, two hours and forty minutes. There was nothing to mar good feeling, the match passing off pleasantly and without a single protest. The crowd cheered lustily at the finish, and all joined in heartily congratulating Carver on his closely won victory. Carver's stakes and gate money amount to over fifteen hundred dollars.

Timber Land Entries.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.
A bill is before Congress to the effect that any person applying for the benefits of the timber culture laws shall make his entry in person at the proper local land office and shall make an affidavit that he is an actual resident of the county and State or Territory in which the land is situated, and that he has not entered into any contract or agreement of relinquishment of the entry he may make, and that he has no present or prospective purpose of making any such relinquishment and offering it for sale as a matter of traffic. Relinquishment of entries made under the provisions of the timber culture laws shall be deemed prima facie evidence that such entries were made for speculative purposes and not in good faith, as required by law, and such entries shall thereupon be liable to cancellation by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and the land covered thereby shall be deemed subject to entry by the first legal applicant.

An Extra Session Possible.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.
It is learned upon good authority that Senator Davis will resign upon the 3d of March, in time to allow his successor to be elected without requiring an extra session. It is understood that Senator Davis resigns with the stipulation that the present organization of officers of the Senate, which is controlled by the Democrats, shall not be disturbed until the regular session next December. It cannot be told with certainty what effect upon an extra session the possible failure of the Senate to act upon the Mexican treaty may have. If the treaty be not ratified before the 30th of March it is possible that the President may think it wise to call an extra session, especially for that purpose.

Foreign Miners in Too Free America.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.
The Chicago & Evanston Railroad, built some seven years ago, running through a populous district in the northwestern portion of the city, was the scene of a riot about 12 o'clock last night. About 200 men, well organized, comprised chiefly of Bohemians, Swedes and Polish laborers, marched to the locality known as Goose Island, near which the road passes, and, beginning at Fullerton avenue, proceeded to tear up the tracks of the road for 500 feet. A large detail of police were called upon and dispersed the rioters, making no arrests. The Chicago & Evanston was built in the face of much opposition and has suffered on several occasions from demonstrations similar to that of last night.

The Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.
A Republican caucus on the tariff bill this afternoon developed the fact clearly that with a solid Democratic vote there is a large majority in the House in favor of the passage of the Senate bill. It also shows that there is a majority of Republicans in favor of non-concurrence in the Senate amendment.

A Hard Dig at an Irish Agitator

LONDON, Feb. 23.
The Times says: The marked rejection by Parnell in the Commons yesterday of the opportunity offered to purge himself from the suspicion of holding relations with Irish assassins might be justified if his political conduct had been from the beginning above the suspicion of the country. The Times says it cannot be expected to view with favor conduct which seems wanting in courage or candor.

LONDON, Feb. 23.
There was much excitement in the Commons at the opening of the session this afternoon, as it was expected Parnell would speak in answer to the charges made against him by Forster yesterday. A large number of persons were in the lobbies, being unable to find room in the house. The strangers' gallery and Peers' gallery were filled and the seats of all members reserved. Parnell said the utmost he desired to do was to make his position clear to the Irish people at home and abroad.

A General Denial.

PARIS, Feb. 23.
Frank Byrne says: "Casey's evidence concerning myself and wife is absolutely false. I was never a member of any secret Irish organization. I deny that the Land League and Inviolables were ever connected directly or indirectly. I believe Casey's evidence with regard to Sheridan is false, and concocted for the purpose of implicating the Land League in the Phoenix Park murders." Byrne proceeded to London this morning.

Part of the crew reached Vancouver Island in a boat; others were taken off the wreck by the bark Arcturus and brought here.

JOTTINGS.

Minor Occurrences in and About Town.

School books at Allen's.
E. Meyer is the grand Turk of the cigar business.

Looks like rain, or snow, or something of the kind.

White-fish are said to be plentiful in the Truckee above the dam.

Dan De Quille predicts a storm. Therefore we will have fair weather.

E. A. Allen has artists' easels, plaques, brushes and paints for sale.

A. J. Clark to-day received a lot of general groceries direct from the East.

Birds' nests at Nasby's. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, and 3—23, 42, 46, 49, 50.

Miles of iron going south for the C. & C. No railroad was ever pushed with more vim.

J. K. Everett is still on deck with a choice load of groceries to land according to order.

Eight car-loads of cattle, shipped by Judge at Winnemucca, went west this morning.

Allen, the GAZETTE route agent, is connecting his store with this office by wire, so that he may know just when the forms go to press.

Chase & Thyes don't complain of dull times. Their place is so attractive that everybody goes there to partake of the choice beverages dispensed.

Cheilovich & Co. are now shipping large quantities of wines and liquors east and south by rail and north by team. They are doing a big business, both wholesale and retail.

Some hard hearted individual hitched a fine horse in front of Chase & Thyes' last evening and let him remain there all night in the cold. A man who is so careless ought to be punished.

It is hard to induce Renoites to hoist a flag on holiday occasions, and twice as hard to get them to haul it down. The flag on the engine house on the Plaza nearly flapped itself, to shreds last night.

When General Mathewson, Internal Revenue Collector, was in town the other day, he overhauled the Pacific Brewery to see if everything was working according to law, and expressed much astonishment at the large quantity of beer George Becker sells. It is far ahead of any other brewery in Nevada.

A MATTER OF INTEREST.

Important Regulation Communicated to the Bodie Land Office.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office in a letter to the Register and Receiver of the U. S. Land Office at Bodie, under date of January 24, 1883, states that witnesses who testify for the applicant in making final proof in desert land entries, are required under the regulations of the General Land Office to appear in person before the Register and Receiver. Their testimony cannot be taken before the clerk of a Court of record, as can be done in making final proof in homestead and pre-emption entries. This regulation is a very inconvenient and expensive one for claimants residing at a distance from the local land office, and ought to be abolished.

PERSONALS.

W. G. Irwin of Truckee is at Lemery's.
Sterrett and Monroe, Pyramid publicans, are in town.

Matt. Healey, the cattle man, returned from San Francisco this morning, and is at the Arcade.

T. B. Gray, County Superintendent of Storey, and W. H. Hill, School Trustee, came down from the Comstock yesterday by private conveyance and visited the Reno schools.

Mr. Bergan, draughtsman in the United States Surveyor General's office here, leaves Reno to-night for Sacramento, where he goes to act as assistant to Surveyor General Willey of California.

Renoites Abroad.

Harry Clawson, formerly of Reno, is in San Francisco buying furniture for the new hotel the Southern Pacific Railroad is building for him at Los Angeles. The building will be one of the finest on the line of the road. Clawson will open the house some time next month. His furniture is of the latest styles and very beautiful. Billy Gillespie, who was so long at the Depot Hotel here, will be Harry's right hand man. Gillespie is clerking at a hotel in Lathrop now.

Novelties a Style.

S. M. Jamison & Co. have just received several cases of choice goods of latest styles, which they are opening out for the inspection of customers. They have an agent regularly employed in San Francisco to look out for novelties in the dry goods line and purchase at discretion. Take a look into the cheap cash store and see the new things on exhibition.

We'll Clean 'em Out.

An Enterprise quib: Reno wants to be a military post. Let her get a lot of soldiers and we shall soon see her marching upon Carson with beating drums and colors flying.

EVERGREEN MILLET.

Drought-Proof Grass Adapted for Nevada Deserts.

W. A. Sanders of Fresno county, Cal., writes to the Pacific Rural Press as follows: I will give you the history of the grass now known as "evergreen millet." I first heard of it in 1888 as the "sorghum" grass, or "evergreen" grass, of dry, interior Australia, and during the succeeding nine years I saw several accounts of it under various names, including "drought-proof grass," and "evergreen millet," also Sorghum halapense, which is not the name of a grass at all, but of the entire species, which includes this and a half dozen other varieties of grass. I had read of its productiveness and value for feed in the dryest regions of the earth. After failing in repeated efforts in those nine years to obtain the seed, and during which time many a worthless thing was represented to be it, and sold to me at a big price, finally, in February, 1877, I obtained a teaspoonful of seed from Dr. S. M. Curl of New Zealand. Foreseeing its value (as it will grow on land too dry for any other crop), and thinking it must before have been introduced into our country, I sent this seed to over 200 seedsmen, offering to purchase all the seed like it in the market. There was none. I was not sure at first that I had the coveted grass of the deserts, as Dr. C. sent it to me under the name of Panicum spectabile, a name which was then new to me. But any doubt as to its being the drought-proof grass was dispelled by the first summer's watching of the 13 precious bunches as they thickened, and broadened and grew taller and more luxuriant under the intense drought and heat that reduced surrounding vegetation to parched dryness. Now, after six years of raising it, I realize its immense value to our State fully.

It can be successfully started on unplowed hills by digging the seed or roots in with a hoe, and, when once started, it will continue to grow till it takes entire possession of the ground, thereby increasing its value for pasture a hundred fold. It will give a supply of green, nutritious feed after all other grasses dry up. The yield of milk and butter from it equals that of alfalfa in quantity, while the quality is as good as that from blue grass or timothy. It will grow on the dryest ground wherever there is an annual rainfall of 12 inches or more. Here, on my place, the roots reach the bedrock from four to seven feet. They are white, tender, and some of them an inch in diameter. A dozen or more roots are produced the first year from a second seed. They are greedily eaten by hogs and other stock.

This is what it promises in the future of our State: The dry foothills and gravel plains of the interior, from San Diego to Siskiyou, changed to green, succulent pastures, while beneath the surface, accessible while the ground is soft in winter, will be an illimitable amount of feed in the masses of large, white, brittle, nutritious roots that are sought after and eaten by everything from horses down to ducks. I could give facts from a hundred persons who are raising it respecting its value, but will only give a few, and those briefly. One writes, "I have it on the river bottom, where the water covers it a month or two every year, effectually killing everything else, but making that grow all the better." Another writes, "It is growing luxuriantly on our high, dry San Diego mesa; I'm disposed to give it a way-up in domestication." Another, on a poultry farm, writes, "Seed me more of the seed; we realize its value, though our poultry has kept ours eaten off." Another, one of Fresno's merchants, who has a beautiful home in one of the colonies, planted a small quantity of roots last year, said to me in Autumn, "It doesn't come quite up to my expectations, but as I know of nothing better I'll plant quite largely of it, and wish you to supply me with roots," which I agreed to do. I saw him a few days ago in Fresno, and he said, "I'd rather not take those roots if it will make no difference." I assured him it would not, but asked, "Why have you changed your mind against the grass?" "Oh, it's not that," said he "but come to dig mine I find I have roots enough to supply the country." In conclusion I heartily endorse the recommendation of the Rural of a year or two ago, from which I dissented at the time, to raise the grass from roots in preference to seed, where practicable to do so. The seeds are small; in the hands of unskilled persons, or even in skilled hands with conditions unfavorable, a portion of the roots fail to grow; while the roots are almost sure to grow; however, repeated freezings and thawings of the roots when out of the ground injure their vitality, and I doubt not if continued could be made to entirely destroy them. Though when in the ground they are indestructible by frost, enduring alike the frigid climate of Minnesota and the alternations of freeze and thaw of the Middle States.

A FISH PALACE.

How Uncle Sam Distributes His Fish to the Public Domain.

One of the palace cars belonging to the United States Fish Commission will probably pass through Reno to-morrow morning, on its way East. It came out to this coast with a passenger list of 18,000 young fish, by the Southern Pacific route, which have been distributed all over California and Nevada, quite a large number of German carp having been placed in Lake Tahoe. The car in appearance, and to a large extent in its internal arrangements, resembles a sleeping car. There are two compartments at each end. In one compartment is what may be called the office of the superintendent. Here is a table fixed between two seats, with a hanging lamp above. The space above the two tanks, which are built upon each side of the passageway, and are used when necessary to cool the air that passes through the fish tanks in the car, is utilized for pigeon-holes. The compartment at the other end is used for a kitchen.

The central part of the car has an aisle running through the center, and in place of the seat on each side are wide wooden ledges, about three feet high on which are placed the tin fish tanks. Berths like those in sleeping cars are along the side for the use of the superintendent and his assistants. The dining table is placed in the aisle with seats in the ledges. The human passengers as well as the fish live in the car. The fish are not placed in the tanks filled with water, as the motion of the train would dash the water about and destroy many lives among the young passengers. Indeed, about 20 fish are placed in gallon tin pails, and these pails are put in the tanks, and then the latter filled with water. With the carp, however, the water in the pails is sufficient, and the motion of the car tends to promote the circulation of air in the water, keeping it fresh. The attendants, however, renew the water every eight hours, and keep a careful watch to remove any fish that may have died. The percentage of fish lost by death is, however, very small. Anybody can obtain fish for propagation by writing to the United States Fish Commissioner and paying transportation charges.

MONEY OR BLOOD.

A New Method of Collecting an Old Debt.

S. C. Hall, the sheep man, and well known here, received the following letter this morning from Denver, Col.:

DENVER, Colorado.

S. C. Hall, Reno, Nevada.—Sir: Do you recollect me telling you in Dayton that I would send you to your grave in misery unless you settled with me as you promised? Now then you have robbed me, and you mark my words for it, that I will carry out the above threat when you least expect it, and I will then suffer with satisfaction whatever penalty the law imposes. You promised to settle with me and you have not done it, and I forbid you again not to collect that note of mine against Jerry Harrington. I am determined to get even with you and I will.

JOHN C. CROWELL.
Mr. Hall immediately sought the District Attorney and obtained a warrant for the arrest of Crowell, charging him with sending a threatening letter to extort money from Hall.

A PYRAMID MONSTER.

An Amphibious Animal—A Cross between an Alligator and a Frog.

There is a monster in Pyramid Lake, so both Indian and white fishermen say, that is doing a great deal of mischief among the blockaded fish at the mouth of the Truckee. It is described as having the body and tail of an alligator, with the flippers of a seal, and, according to the stories told by those who have seen it, varies from six to twenty feet in length, having a mouth like a frog, which enables the animal to scoop in a wide streak of fish when he strikes a school. Sherman, the well-known fisherman, says his habitat is along the shore of Goat Island, where he is frequently seen sunning himself on the beach after a good "fill" of trout. Cliff the Spider and several others propose to go on a hunt for the monster and capture it if possible.

BLACKLEG.

Lower County Cattle Suffering From Its Ravages.

Farmers and stock raisers in the upper portion of the valley, especially around Bishop creek and Big Pine, says the Bodie Free Press, continue to sustain great losses from the disease in cattle generally called "black leg." About 150 head has lately died on the farms near Big Pine. The malady attacks none over 3 years old, and generally those in the best condition of flesh. In spite of everything that has so far been tried for their relief, the death of an animal is apparently certain in 12 or 24 hours after the attack. The disease attacks the legs like paralysis, and upon examination the blood is found congested in the flesh in such a shape that no amount of cutting will cause it to flow. The stomach is found to contain a solid mass resembling a sun-dried brick in color and hardness. Doses of croton oil have proved ineffectual.

PAPER PULP.

The Pioneer Factory in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

On Sunday last, says the Dutch Flat Times, we paid a visit to the Pioneer Pulp Factory's new building, a short distance this side of Towle's Switch. We found the structure complete and some of the massive machinery in its place ready for being run. The sturdy water wheels, that propel the large emery wheels, were in position, and will be ready to run when the water supply attachments are arranged. In the grinding room, into which we were admitted through the courtesy of L. H. Gup-till, the Superintendent, we found the two large emery wheels in position and ready for work. They are fed through twelve feed boxes—six to each wheel. The piece of wood to be ground is about two feet long and is held firmly to the emery wheel, and first, and is automatically fed as it is ground into pulp. Mr. Gup-till informed us that it took about two hours to grind a stick and that two men could easily attend the two wheels. The pulp grinding machinery is of the latest and most approved patterns and patent—the patent for these two having been granted in 1882, at least they were so marked. It will be some weeks before the factory can be ready to start up, as a whole carload of machinery has to arrive from the East yet, which has been unaccountably delayed. When the machinery all arrives at the factory it will be only a short time until work of manufacturing paper pulp at the Pioneer Pulp Factory will be commenced in earnest. A lot of wood for the purpose is already on the ground. It is brought down from up in the mountains on Towle Brothers' railroad and slides down a chute from the track to the factory.
